

JURY BOX FULL, SIMPSON TRIAL IN FULL SWING

Prosecutor Makes Opening Address Against Accused Dentist.

Although Frank Wisniewski, the sole witness to the killing of Hartley Horner by his son-in-law, Dr. James W. Simpson, has been declared insane by the courts and is an inmate of the Kings Park Insane Asylum, District Attorney Furman, of Suffolk County, has secured the presence of the boy as a witness in Dr. Simpson's trial at Riverhead, L. I., which began in earnest when the jury was secured this afternoon. A deputy sheriff, armed with a writ of habeas corpus, called at the insane asylum to-day and, accompanied by an attendant, took young Wisniewski to Riverhead.

Superintendent Macy, of the Kings Park Asylum, said that the move was ill advised. In his opinion Wisniewski, while not violent, is hopelessly deranged and his testimony can in no way be competent. District Attorney Furman contends that Wisniewski is fully qualified to give legal testimony. He saw the killing.

Wisniewski was in the kitchen of the Horner home at Northport on the night of Dec. 27, 1905, when Dr. Simpson shot and killed his father-in-law. The boy was employed doing chores about the place and was never considered an intellectual giant. The shock of the tragedy drove him crazy, but not until he had made some statements to the District Attorney tending to show that Mr. Horner believed he had been shot with murderous intent.

While the District Attorney is firm in stating that he will call Wisniewski as a witness, Martin Manton, counsel for the defense, says he is not alarmed. He does not believe that Justice Kelly will countenance the proceeding.

"The idea of bringing a witness from the insane asylum," said Mr. Manton, "is certainly repugnant to every idea of justice."

Another witness summoned by the prosecution is George K. Preston, a convict in Sing Sing prison who arrived in Riverhead on the noon train. Preston was a prisoner in the Riverhead jail last summer occupying a cell adjoining that of Dr. Simpson. There is considerable curiosity as to the character of the testimony the District Attorney hopes to extract from the convict.

Four jurors were seated at the morning session, making nine in all. The remaining three were chosen in half an hour after the court convened in the afternoon. After the completion of the jury a five-minute recess was taken. District Attorney Furman then began the opening address for the prosecution.

Wife Not in Court.

Neither Mrs. Simpson, the wife of the defendant, nor her mother, Mrs. Horner, was in court at the opening to-day. Dr. Simpson's sister, Mrs. Beauman, of Springfield, sat at his side, her hand clasped in his. The defendant was quite cheerful, being especially comforted over the fact that Dr. Isaac Frank, who was one of the most reliable witnesses for the prosecution at the preliminary hearing will be a leading witness for the defense in the trial of the case.

Dr. Frank lived in Northport at the time of the tragedy and was one of the doctors summoned to attend the wounded Hartley Horner after the shooting. At the preliminary hearing he testified as a shot-gun expert and disengaged a bullet from the likelihood of the shells in a gun exploding from "breaking" the barrel from the stock.

Favor the Defense.

After the preliminary hearing he put in a bill to Mrs. Horner for $250. She refused to pay it, alleging that it would be sufficient recompence for his work, inasmuch as Mr. Horner was about dead when he reached the house. Dr. Frank was brought out for the $250 and sat on the other side of the protection to the defense. Riverhead again with interest his attempt to make his evidence before the jury fit with the evidence he gave at the inquiry.

It is asserted in Northport that Mrs. Simpson, at the request of the District Attorney, telephoned her husband this spring by writing him a letter telling him she would forgive him if he could explain why, just before the shooting, he went to the station where the administration was held, leaving the gun with him. In reply he told her that he did not have the gun when he went to the station. The District Attorney has four witnesses who swore that he did carry the gun. Mrs. Simpson turned a copy of her letter and the reply she received from the doctor over to the District Attorney.

DIED TO RID FAMILY. OF USELESS BURDEN.

Raymond Wrote Letter to Coroner
Before Going Into the Yard to Freeze.

The Brooklyn Coroner's office to-day received a letter written the day before his death by Ernest Raymond, a well-to-do builder, who attempted suicide by freezing in the yard behind his house, at No. 12 Bay Seventeenth street, Bensonhurst, and who blamed the attempt with a slash across his throat, dying yesterday morning. The letter reads:

"Funday—I have suffered dreadfully and to-night I can tell by the awful sensation in my stomach that I am doomed to die. After due consideration I have decided, in justice to my dear wife and darling child, that it is my duty to just die and end all further doctor's bills, while saving what little property remains that my dear wife has left and enable them to live comfortably a few years. People may think I am cowardly, but I am not for I am going out into the yard and deliberately freeze to death, rather than remain in my warm bed and know my loved ones are being pampered to make me well."

ROWDIES BEAT GIRL TEACHER IN SCHOOLROOM

Miss Steele, Unsupported
by Superiors, Forced to Resign.

BOYS GO UNPUNISHED.

South Plainfield Citizens Indignant at Her Treatment and the Indifference of Officials.

(Special to The Evening World.)

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Jan. 29.—Assaulted by brutal boy pupils and unsupported by the school authorities, Miss Steele, a delicate young woman teacher, has been forced to resign her position in the South Plainfield school and leave for her home in Oregon, N. Y.

Indigation against the school principal and other officials who allowed the attacks on the teacher to go unpunished is very great.

The brutality of the boys and the lack of manliness among those who failed to come to the teacher's assistance is only equalled by the indifference of the elders who gave her no protection.

Miss Steele began having trouble with disorderly boys some time ago, but it was soon evident there was a regularly organized conspiracy to defy her authority. When she thought the trouble had reached its limit Miss Steele went to Admiral Davis and apologized therefor. It is pointed out that the Admiral has taken every means known to him to make it evident that he regards the Kingston episode as a closed incident and the officials decline to comment on it in any phase at this time.

The girls referred to are those forwarded from Santiago by Brig. Gen. Wm. C. Gage, who has been selected as the new commanding general of the U. S. Army.

The brutalities of the boys and the lack of manliness among those who failed to come to the teacher's assistance is only equalled by the indifference of the elders who gave her no protection.

Miss Steele began having trouble with disorderly boys some time ago, but it was soon evident there was a regularly organized conspiracy to defy her authority. When she thought the trouble had reached its limit Miss Steele went to Admiral Davis and apologized therefor. It is pointed out that the Admiral has taken every means known to him to make it evident that he regards the Kingston episode as a closed incident and the officials decline to comment on it in any phase at this time.

The girls referred to are those forwarded from Santiago by Brig. Gen.

Wm. C. Gage, who has been selected as the new commanding general of the U. S. Army.

The brutalities of the boys and the lack of manliness among those who failed to come to the teacher's assistance is only equalled by the indifference of the elders who gave her no protection.

Miss Steele began having trouble with

disorderly boys some time ago, but it was soon evident there was a regularly organized conspiracy to defy her authority. When she thought the trouble had reached its limit Miss Steele went to Admiral Davis and apologized therefor. It is pointed out that the Admiral has taken every means known to him to make it evident that he regards the Kingston episode as a closed incident and the officials decline to comment on it in any phase at this time.

The girls referred to are those forwarded from Santiago by Brig. Gen.

Wm. C. Gage, who has been selected as the new commanding general of the U. S. Army.

The brutalities of the boys and the lack of manliness among those who failed to come to the teacher's assistance is only equalled by the indifference of the elders who gave her no protection.

Miss Steele began having trouble with

disorderly boys some time ago, but it was soon evident there was a regularly organized conspiracy to defy her authority. When she thought the trouble had reached its limit Miss Steele went to Admiral Davis and apologized therefor. It is pointed out that the Admiral has taken every means known to him to make it evident that he regards the Kingston episode as a closed incident and the officials decline to comment on it in any phase at this time.

The girls referred to are those forwarded from Santiago by Brig. Gen.

Wm. C. Gage, who has been selected as the new commanding general of the U. S. Army.

The brutalities of the boys and the lack of manliness among those who failed to come to the teacher's assistance is only equalled by the indifference of the elders who gave her no protection.

Miss Steele began having trouble with

disorderly boys some time ago, but it was soon evident there was a regularly organized conspiracy to defy her authority. When she thought the trouble had reached its limit Miss Steele went to Admiral Davis and apologized therefor. It is pointed out that the Admiral has taken every means known to him to make it evident that he regards the Kingston episode as a closed incident and the officials decline to comment on it in any phase at this time.

The girls referred to are those forwarded from Santiago by Brig. Gen.

Wm. C. Gage, who has been selected as the new commanding general of the U. S. Army.

The brutalities of the boys and the lack of manliness among those who failed to come to the teacher's assistance is only equalled by the indifference of the elders who gave her no protection.

Miss Steele began having trouble with

disorderly boys some time ago, but it was soon evident there was a regularly organized conspiracy to defy her authority. When she thought the trouble had reached its limit Miss Steele went to Admiral Davis and apologized therefor. It is pointed out that the Admiral has taken every means known to him to make it evident that he regards the Kingston episode as a closed incident and the officials decline to comment on it in any phase at this time.

The girls referred to are those forwarded from Santiago by Brig. Gen.

Wm. C. Gage, who has been selected as the new commanding general of the U. S. Army.

The brutalities of the boys and the lack of manliness among those who failed to come to the teacher's assistance is only equalled by the indifference of the elders who gave her no protection.

Miss Steele began having trouble with

disorderly boys some time ago, but it was soon evident there was a regularly organized conspiracy to defy her authority. When she thought the trouble had reached its limit Miss Steele went to Admiral Davis and apologized therefor. It is pointed out that the Admiral has taken every means known to him to make it evident that he regards the Kingston episode as a closed incident and the officials decline to comment on it in any phase at this time.

The girls referred to are those forwarded from Santiago by Brig. Gen.

Wm. C. Gage, who has been selected as the new commanding general of the U. S. Army.

The brutalities of the boys and the lack of manliness among those who failed to come to the teacher's assistance is only equalled by the indifference of the elders who gave her no protection.

Miss Steele began having trouble with

disorderly boys some time ago, but it was soon evident there was a regularly organized conspiracy to defy her authority. When she thought the trouble had reached its limit Miss Steele went to Admiral Davis and apologized therefor. It is pointed out that the Admiral has taken every means known to him to make it evident that he regards the Kingston episode as a closed incident and the officials decline to comment on it in any phase at this time.

The girls referred to are those forwarded from Santiago by Brig. Gen.

Wm. C. Gage, who has been selected as the new commanding general of the U. S. Army.

The brutalities of the boys and the lack of manliness among those who failed to come to the teacher's assistance is only equalled by the indifference of the elders who gave her no protection.

Miss Steele began having trouble with

disorderly boys some time ago, but it was soon evident there was a regularly organized conspiracy to defy her authority. When she thought the trouble had reached its limit Miss Steele went to Admiral Davis and apologized therefor. It is pointed out that the Admiral has taken every means known to him to make it evident that he regards the Kingston episode as a closed incident and the officials decline to comment on it in any phase at this time.

The girls referred to are those forwarded from Santiago by Brig. Gen.

Wm. C. Gage, who has been selected as the new commanding general of the U. S. Army.

The brutalities of the boys and the lack of manliness among those who failed to come to the teacher's assistance is only equalled by the indifference of the elders who gave her no protection.

Miss Steele began having trouble with

disorderly boys some time ago, but it was soon evident there was a regularly organized conspiracy to defy her authority. When she thought the trouble had reached its limit Miss Steele went to Admiral Davis and apologized therefor. It is pointed out that the Admiral has taken every means known to him to make it evident that he regards the Kingston episode as a closed incident and the officials decline to comment on it in any phase at this time.

The girls referred to are those forwarded from Santiago by Brig. Gen.

Wm. C. Gage, who has been selected as the new commanding general of the U. S. Army.

The brutalities of the boys and the lack of manliness among those who failed to come to the teacher's assistance is only equalled by the indifference of the elders who gave her no protection.

Miss Steele began having trouble with

disorderly boys some time ago, but it was soon evident there was a regularly organized conspiracy to defy her authority. When she thought the trouble had reached its limit Miss Steele went to Admiral Davis and apologized therefor. It is pointed out that the Admiral has taken every means known to him to make it evident that he regards the Kingston episode as a closed incident and the officials decline to comment on it in any phase at this time.

The girls referred to are those forwarded from Santiago by Brig. Gen.

Wm. C. Gage, who has been selected as the new commanding general of the U. S. Army.

The brutalities of the boys and the lack of manliness among those who failed to come to the teacher's assistance is only equalled by the indifference of the elders who gave her no protection.

Miss Steele began having trouble with

disorderly boys some time ago, but it was soon evident there was a regularly organized conspiracy to defy her authority. When she thought the trouble had reached its limit Miss Steele went to Admiral Davis and apologized therefor. It is pointed out that the Admiral has taken every means known to him to make it evident that he regards the Kingston episode as a closed incident and the officials decline to comment on it in any phase at this time.

The girls referred to are those forwarded from Santiago by Brig. Gen.

Wm. C. Gage, who has been selected as the new commanding general of the U. S. Army.

The brutalities of the boys and the lack of manliness among those who failed to come to the teacher's assistance is only equalled by the indifference of the elders who gave her no protection.

Miss Steele began having trouble with

disorderly boys some time ago, but it was soon evident there was a regularly organized conspiracy to defy her authority. When she thought the trouble had reached its limit Miss Steele went to Admiral Davis and apologized therefor. It is pointed out that the Admiral has taken every means known to him to make it evident that he regards the Kingston episode as a closed incident and the officials decline to comment on it in any phase at this time.

The girls referred to are those forwarded from Santiago by Brig. Gen.

Wm. C. Gage, who has been selected as the new commanding general of the U. S. Army.

The brutalities of the boys and the lack of manliness among those who failed to come to the teacher's assistance is only equalled by the indifference of the elders who gave her no protection.

Miss Steele began having trouble with

disorderly boys some time ago, but it was soon evident there was a regularly organized conspiracy to defy her authority. When she thought the trouble had reached its limit Miss Steele went to Admiral Davis and apologized therefor. It is pointed out that the Admiral has taken every means known to him to make it evident that he regards the Kingston episode as a closed incident and the officials decline to comment on it in any phase at this time.

The girls referred to are those forwarded from Santiago by Brig. Gen.

Wm. C. Gage, who has been selected as the new commanding general of the U. S. Army.

The brutalities of the boys and the lack of manliness among those who failed to come to the teacher's assistance is only equalled by the indifference of the elders who gave her no protection.

Miss Steele began having trouble with

disorderly boys some time ago, but it was soon evident there was a regularly organized conspiracy to defy her authority. When she thought the trouble had reached its limit Miss Steele went to Admiral Davis and apologized therefor. It is pointed out that the Admiral has taken every means known to him to make it evident that he regards the Kingston episode as a closed incident and the officials decline to comment on it in any phase at this time.

The girls referred to are those forwarded from Santiago by Brig. Gen.

Wm. C. Gage, who has been selected as the new commanding general of the U. S. Army.

The brutalities of the boys and the lack of manliness among those who failed to come to the teacher's assistance is only equalled by the indifference of the elders who gave her no protection.

Miss Steele began having trouble with

disorderly boys some time ago, but it was soon evident there was a regularly organized conspiracy to defy her authority. When she thought the trouble had reached its limit Miss Steele went to Admiral Davis and apologized therefor. It is pointed out that the Admiral has taken every means known to him to make it evident that he regards the Kingston episode as a closed incident and the officials decline to comment on it in any phase at this time.

The girls referred to are those forwarded from Santiago by Brig. Gen.

Wm. C. Gage, who has been selected as the new commanding general of the U. S. Army.

The brutalities of the boys and the lack of manliness among those who failed to come to the teacher's assistance is only equalled by the indifference of the elders who gave her no protection.

Miss Steele began having trouble with

disorderly boys some time ago, but it was soon evident there was a regularly organized conspiracy to defy her authority. When she thought the trouble had reached its limit Miss Steele went to Admiral Davis and apologized therefor. It is